Diversity and Equal Opportunity Policy (reviewed/revised 6/18/13)

University of the Pacific does not discriminate on the basis of race, national origin, ancestry, color, religion, religious creed, age (except for minors or for bona fide occupational qualification), marital status, gender, gender identity, gender expression, genetic information, sexual orientation, sex (including pregnancy, childbirth, breastfeeding and related medical conditions), medical condition (including cancer/genetic characteristics or AIDS/HIV status), disability, citizenship status, military service status, and any other status protected by law.

In compliance with all applicable laws, all educational services will be provided and all employment decisions will be made (including retirement, training, compensation, benefits, employee relations, promotions and termination) without regard to the individual’s status protected by law. The University will engage in an interactive process to evaluate reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals who are able to safely perform all the essential functions of their position with or without reasonable accommodations.