What has been lost; what has been saved: John Muir’s Legacy, 1914-2014

60th California History Institute

March 21-22, 2014

March 20  Field Trip for John Muir Class and other Pacific students to Martinez to visit John Muir National Historic Site

March 21  Field Trip to Coulterville (John Muir Geotourism Center), John Muir Highway, Groveland, Crane Flat, with lunch in Coulterville at the historic Jeffery Hotel (a fee event)

March 22  “What has been lost; what has been saved: John Muir’s Legacy, 1914-2014”--An all-day symposium on campus in Grace Covell Hall.  9 AM to 4:30 PM by registration only.

Focus will be on the 100th anniversary of Muir’s death: What has been lost that Muir championed saving; what has been saved through his pioneering efforts in conservation and his philosophy and vision of preservation, protection, and wise-public-use which led to establishment of many federal, state, and local parks, preserves, and recreational areas throughout the world, and especially in North America.

For more information on the Muir Symposium, 2014, send an e mail request to be on the electronic mailing list to johnmuir@pacific.edu or contact Bill Swagerty at wswagerty@pacific.edu.