Pacific Summer Program in China
May 15 – June 20, 2014
5-week summer program in China to earn up to 8 Pacific academic units

China has 1.3 billion people and is the fastest growing economy in the world. Many leading American companies and organizations have subsidiaries in China and many more are exploring opportunities in the country. Knowledge about Chinese cultural, business and language provides a key competitive edge to the future leaders in various fields. To enhance your global experience and competitiveness, we offer a program of five weeks in Beijing, China in the summer of 2014. The program includes courses taught by faculty from University of the Pacific. It features field studies, cultural activities, visits to some business institutions and interacts with successful American business entrepreneurs and organizations in China. Through the summer program, students can earn up to 8 University of the Pacific units and gain highly valuable global experiences in the most economically vibrant and prosperous cities in the world!

Location: Beijing, China.

Courses: Chinese language courses at all levels; Socioeconomic History of E. Asia

Cultural Experiences: the Great Wall, the Forbidden City in Beijing, Tiananmen Square, Summer Palace & many more.

Program Fee: $3,350 including instruction, room, activities in China, & Chinese visa fee. The fee does not include round trip airfare, food and personal expenses.

Open: Pacific students, faculty, staff, alumni, community and students from other colleges and universities.

Minimum number of participants: 15 people.

The application procedure will be explained in the information sessions to be organized in the fall & spring semesters.

To request for more information or application form, please contact:
Dr. Jie Lu, College of the Pacific, WPC 225, jlu@pacific.edu, Tel: 209-946-2917; or Dr. Arturo Giraldez, agiraldez@pacific.edu, College of the Pacific, 209-946-2911