ABOUT PACIFIC: Pacific is a private Division-I university with about 6,700 students on three campuses in Northern California. The graduate program within the Department of Health, Exercise, and Sport Sciences provides for scholarly study in the areas of:

- Health and Exercise Science, Sport Pedagogy, Coaching Science, and Sport Management.

Graduate students will choose one of the above concentrations in which to complete his/hers master’s degree. Within each concentration there are set core courses however one of the major strengths of the program lies in the flexibility of the elective courses.

POSITIONS: Two (2) graduate assistant positions are available through the Department of Health, Exercise, and Sport Sciences at University of the Pacific. This is a 9-month position beginning in August 2013 and can be renewed for a second year.

DUTIES:

- Provide Athletic Training services for one NCAA Division I athletic team (travel included)
- Collaborate to provide additional coverage for Athletic teams and events as needed
- Provide general Athletic Training Facility coverage
- Perform duties as a Preceptor in a CAATE accredited undergraduate ATEP
- Assist ATEP faculty with academic courses and administrative duties
- Teach activity courses for the Department of Health, Exercise, and Sport Sciences

BENEFITS:
The successful applicant will receive an $8,250 stipend (per academic year) and remission for the 32 units required to earn the Master’s degree (approx. value $35,776). All graduate units taken using tuition remission must be towards the completion of your degree. There are potential opportunities for additional income throughout the year which may include coverage of high school football, summer camps, and weekend events.

QUALIFICATIONS:

- BOC certified or eligible by June 2013 (must be certified by August 2013)
- GPA of 3.0 or higher cumulative and in major coursework
- GRE scores of 150 on the verbal and 152 on the quantitative sections of the GRE

APPLICATION:
Send electronic/digital application via email attachment that includes: a cover letter, resume, transcripts (unofficial OK but will need official transcripts with graduate school application), GRE scores (GRE must be taken but official scores can be sent at a later date), and contact information for three references to:

Jolene Baker, EdD, ATC
(209) 946-3182 or jbaker@pacific.edu

DEADLINE: February 1st, 2013

On receipt of the electronic application you will be mailed a graduate school application. Please complete and return with your official transcripts before February 1st, 2013.