A Three-City University

Pacific's presence in three unique California cities offers students a wider breadth of educational programs, as well as internship, outreach and interprofessional education opportunities. Graduates can avail themselves of further graduate education and continuing professional education programs to keep skills relevant and succeed in an ever-evolving society.

Sacramento Campus

The beautiful tree-lined Sacramento Campus provides a focused learning environment with ties to the power and influence of one of the nation's most important state capitals. Anchored by the Pacific McGeorge School of Law, the campus also offers graduate programs in physician assistant studies, education, public policy and public administration. Pioneering legal clinics deliver quality pro bono representation to underserved community members, and our students routinely earn impressive victories on behalf of their clients.

San Francisco Campus

Pacific's high-tech San Francisco Campus thrives in the South of Market (SoMa) district in one of the world's most exciting cities. Home to the nationally renowned Arthur A. Dugoni School of Dentistry, the campus also offers graduate programs in data science, music therapy and audiology. Dental and audiology clinics and numerous health care outreach efforts provide quality dental and audiology services each year for people of all ages, many of whom may not otherwise receive care.

Stockton Campus

Pacific's largest campus serves nearly 5,000 students and is located in the heart of California's Central Valley. Renowned for its idyllic beauty, breadth of academic programs and vibrant campus life, the Stockton Campus is home to a college of liberal arts and sciences, a conservatory of music, the state's first 3-year accelerated doctor of pharmacy program, health sciences graduate programs and Benerd College, which provides programs for non-traditional students as well as continuing education.

Significance of Academic Regalia

Distinctive academic dress can be traced back to the universities of the Middle Ages when university students and faculty wore the robes of the clergy. Today, three ranks of degrees are distinguished through variations in the robes, which also indicate the discipline and the university that awarded the degree.

In the United States, gowns generally are black. The color of the edging of the hood, and occasionally the color of the facing and crossbars on the doctoral gown, indicate the field of learning in which the degree is awarded. The colors of the lining of the hood are those of the institution awarding the degree. At Pacific, tassel colors represent fields of study at the undergraduate and master's level. Generally, bachelor's and master's tassels are black, and doctoral tassels are gold. After graduation, the tassel is worn on the left side of the mortarboard. An individual's degree is revealed by the type of gown and width of the edging on the hood.

Bachelor's gowns have full, pointed sleeves with no trimming. Hoods have a two-inch edging. Master's gowns prior to 1960 had full, closed sleeves with the arm emerging through a slit at the elbow.

In 1960, the gown was modified to replace the elbow slit with an opening at the wrist, and the gown was made to close. Hoods have a three-inch edging. Doctor's gowns are traditionally made of silk, have rounded sleeves, velvet facing down the front and three velvet crossbars on each sleeve. Hoods have side panels and a five-inch facing.

Historical Significance of The University Mace

Originally a weapon used in medieval warfare, the mace evolved by the 12th century into a symbolic device used on ceremonial occasions and borne before monarchs, mayors and parliaments. The mace, as an academic symbol, dates back to the 15th century at the University of St. Andrews in Scotland. The use of maces as symbols of academic authority spread to other universities in the British Isles and, from there, to America.

Robert E. Burns, Pacific president from 1946 to 1971, asked Stuart Devlin, an internationally known London silver designer, to create University of the Pacific's mace. It was commissioned in recognition of the university's transition from a college to a university and was first used at a Founders Day ceremony on March 6, 1966. Constructed entirely of silver with a gold plated seal of the university in its head, the mace weighs 15 pounds and is approximately four feet long. It was a gift from Mrs. Winifred Olson Raney, a regent of the university. The mace is displayed at all official university functions, including Commencement and Convocation. It is traditionally carried by the chair of the Academic Council or a faculty member to symbolize the role of the faculty in university governance.

PACIFIC HAIL!

Words and Music by Lois Warner Winston '23
(1901–1989)

From o'er the rugged mountains standing high;

From out the broad low valleys, 'neath the sky;

Our alma mater calls, We cannot fail,

Our voices blend in praise, Pacific Hail! Pacific Hail!

Long may her flaming torch give out its light;

Long may her spirit guide us in the right;

To her we pledge our hearts, We dare not fail;

To her we raise our song,

Pacific Hail! Pacific Hail!
